Abstract of the Disclosure

A hierarchical, probability-based look-up method and apparatus for selection of an operation for job generation. Bitmaps are set based on the priority class of pending operation requests. The bitmap values are used to select a priority class and an operation for the selected priority class in a two-step, probability-based table look-up.

400572-1